Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

Detail Action

Claims 1-10 are amended for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schuster et al (us pat 6731630) (hereinafter Schuster) in view of Waites (us pat 6788769).

As regarding claim 1, Schuster disclosed plurality of communication devices for inputting telephone number and an identification number of the destination telecommunication services operator (col.15, lines 58-67, plurality of communication devices in figure 1); a storage device for storing a reference table in which the input identification number of the destination telecommunication services operator is correlated with the domain name of the destination telecommunication services operator (col.14, lines 44-56, col.15, lines 58-67, col.18, lines 9-24); a communication management device for using the input identification number of the destination telecommunication services operator as an address for reading the domain name of the destination telecommunication services operator from the storage device, the input telephone with the domain name read from the storage device (col.14, lines 44-55, col.8, lines 9-24).

Schuster did not expressly disclose the inputted telephone number and an identification number of the destination telecommunication services operator for communicating to the destination the electronic mail information using the electronic mail address, form the electronic mail address for sending the electronic mail information.

Waites taught the inputted telephone number and an identification number of the destination telecommunication services operator for communicating to the destination the electronic mail information using the electronic mail address, form the electronic mail address for sending the electronic mail information (col.5, lines 66-67, col.6, lines 1-5).

It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the use of the telephone number and an identification number of the destination telecommunication services operator for the electronic mail information using the electronic mail address of Waites in Schuster such that to have the telephone number and identification number of the destination telecommunication services operator as the email address because both Waites and Schuster has taught inventions relating to telecommunication network inputting telephone number for communication.

A person with ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to make the modification to Schuster because Schuster suggested that using user and device identifier that are in form similar to an e-mail address (see Schuster col.14, lines 44-46) and by inputting telephone number and identification number of the destination telecommunication services operator as the email address for the purpose of simplified addressing for Internet and telephone messaging (see Waites col.1, lines 39-41).

As regarding claim 2, Schuster-Waites disclosed the storage device is automatically updated with a new domain name of the telecommunication services operator at a desired time (see Schuster, Fig.6, update the database to include unique communication number (domain portion and subscriber portion)).

As regarding claim 3, Schuster-Waites disclosed communication management device of the telecommunication services operator is connected to a communication management device of any other telecommunication services operator through a communication network, and transmits said electronic mail information to said communication device which is line-connected to the other telecommunication services operator (col.18, lines 9-24, col.16, lines 63-65, 1st connection server, second connection server, DNS).

As regarding claim 4, Schuster-Waites disclosed Waites disclosed country information, in addition to said identification number is correlated with the domain name in the reference table stored in said storage device (see Waites col.6, lines 1-5, lines 18-32). The same motivation was utilized in claim 1 applied equally well to claim 4.

As regarding claim 5, the claim limitations are similar to claim 1, therefore rejected for the same rational as claim 1.

Art Unit: 2143

As regarding claim 6, the claim limitations are similar to claim 2, therefore rejected for the same rational as claim 2.

As regarding claim 7, the claim limitations are similar to claim 3, therefore rejected for the same rational as claim 3.

As regarding claim 8, the claim limitations are similar to claim 1, therefore rejected for the same rationale as claim 1.

As regarding claim 9, the claim limitations are similar to claim 2, therefore rejected for the same rational as claim 2.

As regarding claim 10, the claim limitations are similar to claim 4, therefore rejected for the same rational as claim 4.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1-10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
